Graphic Story of Battle Told President.

Participants of Gettysburg Paint Word Picture of Contest.

Chief Magistrate and Mrs. Roosevelt Driven Over the Historic Field of Civil War.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., May 30.—President Roosevelt and party reached this historic battleground at 3:30 today. Leaving Washington at 10:30 last night a leisurely run was made by the E. & O. special train to Pennsylvania. There in a delightful park in the mountains, the train was side tracked at 2 a. m., remaining until 7:30 this morning. Before the train left for Gettysburg, several hundred people had gathered. The President appeared on the rear platform. He spoke as follows:

President's Brief Speech.

It is a great pleasure to greet you this morning and I am so glad that we have such beautiful weather on the occasion of my visiting this historic battlefield of the war on Decoration day. I will not attempt to speak now, as I am to speak later in the day. I shall merely repeat how glad I am to see all of you especially those who wear the button that shows you have a righter greater than any of the rest of us to be here and to rejoice in all that this Memorial day means.

The train was stopped at Gettysburg, at Reynolds avenue, the road which traverses the position of the Confederate armies on the first day of the battle. There the President and party entered carriages and started on a drive over the battlefield. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt alighted from their car and were greeted by Gov. Pennypacker on behalf of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania and by a reception committee of the corporal Skelly post No. 8, G. A. R., under whose auspices the ceremonies of the day were conducted. A section of a battery of the Third Artillery, U. S. A., fired a Presidential salute of twenty-one guns.

The drive over the battlefield occupied three hours and a quarter, the entire twenty miles of the line roads built by the National Government being covered. Frequent stops were made to enable the President to study at close range some of the more important features of the historic field. He manifested familiarity with the details of the battle and expressed the deepest interest in various incidents recounted by Gen. O. O. Howard and Gen. Daniel Sickles, both of whom participated in the three days' engagement on Little Round Top, where a prolonged stop was made.

Word Picture of Battle.

Gen. Howard and Sickles described the battle, the President, Mrs. Roosevelt and the entire party listening attentively to the graphic word pictures of the two distinguished veterans, drawing the situations at they arose during the battle. At the President's request, Gen. Sickles pointed out where he received the wound that cost him his right leg. In that connection he said that he did not know that he had been hit until he returned to his headquarters about 6:30 p. m., only discovering the fact then by finding his right hand, which had been resting on his leg, covered with blood.

KANSAS CITY, May 30.—After rising slowly for twenty-four hours, the Kaw river at this point was stationary today, and as the streams west of here are receding or stationary, no damage is anticipated.

VASSAR, Kan., May 30.—This community is suffering the most serious flood since 1894. The river reaches from bluff to bluff, crops are practically ruined in the bottoms and nearly all the bridges on the Dragon and One Hundred and Ten creek have been washed out.
